

P-BL8.0

PROJECT-BASED LEARNING CONFERENCE 8.0 Regis College, Weston, MA

Hands-On • Work with Peers • Create P-BL Concepts for Your Classroom • Meet Experienced P-BL Teachers + Students
Optional Bridgewater State University Course

An Introduction to PBL 1 credit, $200

Starts in the afternoon of the conference, runs virtually thereafter.
Joanne McDonald + Sue Skeiber, instructors

Participants will study Project Based Learning concepts and design elements in this course.

Millennium learners require an understanding of core content knowledge and 21st century themes to be college and work ready.

Through shared investigations of real-world issues, young students define and identify possible solutions or strategies using content skills, and traditional and digital resources along with web interactive applications.

Experienced P-BL educators guide students through this inquiry-based model to find answers and share new understandings.

Participants will use P-BL elements and research as they complete an outline for their own instructional use.

Statement of Interest

NAME OF SCHOOL DISTRICT _____

PHONE _____

NAME OF SCHOOL _____

PHONE _____

THE FOLLOWING ARE INTERESTED IN ENROLLING IN THIS COURSE. HOLD US PLACES.

NAME OF PERSON	E-MAIL
1 _____	_____
2 _____	_____
3 _____	_____
4 _____	_____
5 _____	_____
6 _____	_____
7 _____	_____
8 _____	_____
9 _____	_____
10 _____	_____

REGISTRATION + PAYMENT METHOD

A representative of Bridgewater State University will register interested students and take payment by credit card or debit card at the conference.

First class period starts at the conference just after lunch.

